WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1858.

DISINTERMENT. did you ever attend a disinterment? You have seen many a loved form lowered into its dreary tomb, but have you ever, after an it has effected. When used for Dyspepsia, interval of many long years, gone down again to the same tomb to look after the coffined dust, that you might remove it to a more quiet and hallowed resting-place? That was my business for a short time some few nights ago in your busy city. There, where, of your great metropolis, stood around a or 6 bottles for $5, by the sole proprietors, vault that had not been opened for thirty years, a few descendants of those whose remains lay within. The quiet of the place at that time contrasted strikingly with the din and whirl of the day. The pedlars and small tradesmen had moved their shops and wares from the side-walk. The tread of busy human feet was no longer heard. The rushing, anxious multitudes of all ages and condiwhich were suspended many joys or sorrows, they, too, had gone to come again to mor-row. The larger stores are closed, and cast their dark shadows upon the surrounding How many had stood around that same opening under other circumstances, and in the midst of other scenes!

Nearly a hundred years had past since the first interment had been made there .--One of the early Treasurers of the city was among its first occupants; and he had been buried there when it was a green and almost rural spot. There lay two wives, mother and daughter, whose husbands belonged to the staff of Washington; the last, a noble woman, the friend of Lady Washington; the other, one of the most gay and beautiful of the military circle that shared the perils of the camp. There, too, lay the beloved brother of this lady. He bad chosen a life of service in another warfare, and has left his memorial on the hearts of some not yet departed. The friend and companion of

No one but he who has felt it, can know the bitterness of a memory renewed by looking upon and handling, after an interval of thirty, or forty, and fifty years, the coffins that then entered and left the houses of mourning for the first time. Those child coffins of the beautiful blue-eyed sisters that lighted up our household for two and three years, and then were laid, amidst tears of anguish, in those narrow cribs, looking as if asleep, their coffins lay, with their loved names en- modation of a large family. At present, the graved upon the lids; and although we knew their spirits lived in unclouded light, yet memory brought back the scenes of the past the watching through long nights, the pale, anxious mother, the tearful father, the alternate hopes and fears, the noiseless tread of cradle, and then the dying throes, and the stillness of the heaving breast, and the loud sobs of parents, and the wailings of children, and the sad, sad, funeral! The weepers and the wept were together in in the flesh once again-the living and dead met in that dark sepulchral vault, never again to meet until taken place around those tombs since we had, more than forty years before, stood a mourner there! Then Canal street was on the outskirts of the city-then below Wall street, was the court end of the town. The Battery was the evening place of resort, and Trinity Church walk the centre of the fashionable promenade.

How time passes! Fifty years hence, and how few of the busy throng that now daily toil with hurried step along that thoroughfare between the Custom House and the City to his service, as he used to stand near the coming, in which all that are in their graves shall bear his voice and shall come forth; "they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation," think you that those busy men would believe and repent? Ah, let them pause and reflect that the tomb levels all distinctions but those which are founded on the word of Jesus .-Chr. Int.

New York, jan 15-eolm AND FOR SALE .- The subscriber offers for sale the land on which he resides .ud land is situated in the county of Culpeper, five miles east of the Court house, immediately on the main road leading from that place to Fredericksburg. It adjoins the lands of C. C. Beckham, W. J. Fife, Mrs. J. T. Finney and Hamilton, Mason, Miller, and Livingston, others. There are, by recent survey FOUR he shone bright even amidst that galaxy of HUNDRED AND TWO ACRES, of which eloquent men. As his frame wound its three hundred and twenty-two are in one body slow way around Broadway to the New or tract, about two hundred and ninety being Dutch Church, the tragedian, Cooper, who cleared. The remainder of eighty acres is dewas looking on, exclaimed, "That was a good man; I wish I was as sure of heaven as he."

Cleared. The remainder of eighty acres is detached from, but of convenient access to the former, furnishing an abundance of fine WOOD AND TIMBER.

The soil is of the very best description in the neighborhood in which the land is situated .-Its native strength and susceptibility of improvement to an almost unlimited extent, combined with the facility of access to the markets of Richmond, Alexandria and Fredericksburgthe proverbial healthiness and the beautiful scenery of the whole region offers an inducement to puchasers that can scarcely be surpassed anywhere. The improvements already on the place, can, with a moderate outlay of money, be made yet never to open those eyes again. There ample and suitable for the handsome accom-

DWELLING HOUSE is a comfortable and convenient one, containing eight rooms, inluding the basement. The outbuildings are -the laughing prattling joy of the house, the inferior. There is a good orchard on the place; first languor, the slow, lingering sickness, a well of fine water in the yard, and a spring convenient to the house.

Further information as to price, terms of sale, &c., will be promptly given by the subscriber in the brothers and sisters peering into the response to applicants, addressed to him through mail at Stevensburg post office, or in person upon the place, which he will take pleasure in showing to any one wishing to purchase.

the final resurrection! What changes had tarm on which I now reside, in Fauquier countaining TWO HUNDRED ACRES. This farm lies three miles east of the town of Warrenton, which is connected by railroad with the cities of Alexandria and Richmond, and within one and a quarter miles of the Alexandria Turnpike. The neighboorhood is a very agreeable one, and the location eminently heal The buildings consist of a commodious DWELLING, and out-houses, comprising Kitchen, Smoke house, Ice-house, Stables, Cornhouse and a large Barn, all of which are new. The land is susceptible of the highest degree. of improvement, and with as little expense as Hall, will be moving upon earth. If the Saviour of the world should stand under the never-failing springs. Mill Run passes through shadow of that old building once consecrated a portion of it, comprising about twenty-five acres of meadow land which is finely set in Temple of Jerusalem, and say, the hour is grass. The supply of wood and timber is abundant. In addition to these advantages, there is A VALUABLE MILL SEAT on the farm, which has once been used for the purpose of a manufacturing mill, and which would be a most desirable location for a similar establishment on a smaller scale. As persons desirous of pur chasing will doubtless look for themselves, it is unnecessary to say more I am satisfied that no farm in market furnishes more favorable inducements to any one who may desire to make a safe and judicious investment in land. Title unquestionable. For terms, which will be reasonable, and other information, apply on the premises to
